

DAYTON UNITED FOR HUMAN RIGHTS

A collective push for the declaration of Dayton as a human rights city has the potential to reshape our city towards becoming more equitable

MISSION STATEMENT

Listen to, educate and involve members of the community and elected officials to ensure accountability for the protection of human rights.

VISION

Establishing a just community where everyone is accountable to one another and all live in dignity

Dayton formally commits to protecting and promoting human rights.

A mechanism is established to hear community concerns, improve human rights, and publicly report progress.

MEETING DATES

Every 3rd Thursday of the month from 6:00 pm-8:00 pm
Location will be communicated on our socials

STRONGER TOGETHER

Dayton United for Human Rights is a diverse grassroots movement working toward declaring Dayton a Human Rights City, through an established three tier partnership with government officials, local universities and our overall community to improve the well-being of all residents and create a just community where all live in dignity.
