

Maggie Austen, Suffolk Law School mausten@suffolk.edu

Human Rights Cities: Research, Resources, & Resolutions

Sustaining and Sharing the Work

This Human Rights project seeks to identify the legal instruments and language leveraged by cities, and other local government entities, to protect and promote human rights. Material here is compiled, categorized and prioritized over 700 localities which meet this criteria into a google sheet and prezi, which includes:

1. Cities - a comprehensive but incomplete list of human rights cities;
2. Resources - a guide community organizers and municipal leaders can leverage to better understand the scope and possibilities of becoming a human rights city; and
3. Resolutions - a preliminary collection of legal instruments and language used by city governments.

The goal now is to continue and promote this research because information on the Human Rights Cities movement, while robust, is decentralized. This means that activists, community organizers, and city officials on-the-ground may waste valuable time and resources looking for information that is hard to find or not applicable to their specific human rights objectives.

Maggie is looking for other students or researchers who can contribute to the project, by adding to the database, including resources, cities, populations, and resolutions. Interested individuals can e-mail Maggie at mausten@suffolk.edu or follow the instructions provided in the google sheet.

LINKS:

Human Rights Cities: Research, Resources, & Resolutions google sheet,

https://docs.google.com/spreadsheets/d/194mb5GnZOB8fGo5lu0YoG\_vWYwMXT\_Prfa0estDaa6U/edit?usp=sharing

Human Rights Cities: Research, Resources, & Resolutions presentation,

<https://prezi.com/view/OLFLPtNm74prgeEStnco/>.

Human Rights Cities: Research Paper, <https://drive.google.com/file/d/1zu8X9yXeydjN0Q43z2KW8-j77VswPP2S/view?usp=sharing>